Must repair economy & health infra, says Modi

Though disruption is still there, PM calls for focusing on twin foundations

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, 16 Juni

s India emerges from a devastating second wave of Covid-19 infections, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday said the focus must be on repairing and preparing the health infrastructure as well as the economy for future challenges.

To prepare a base for a sustained higher growth rate, the government continues to unleash reforms and has also extended free food distribution schemes to aid the poor hit hard by the pandemic.

"Over the past year, we have witnessed a lot of disruption in different sectors. Much of it is still there," Modi said at the VivaTech Summit. "Yet, disruption does not have to mean despair. Instead, we must keep the focus on the twin foundation of repair and prepare." This time last year the world was still seeking a vaccine and today two vaccines are being made in India, and more are in the development or trial stages, he said.

'We have to continue repairing health infrastructure and our economies," he said. "And when I say prepare, I mean insulating our planet against the next pandemic, ensuring we focus on a sustainable lifestyle that stops ecological degradation, strengthening cooperation in furthering research as well as innovation." Indian economy suffered its worst contraction in four decades as coronavirus-induced lockdowns stalled businesses and economic activity.

While attempts were made to control the spread of infections and healthcare infrastructure built to treat the ill, the government implemented huge reforms across sectors — from mining to space, from banking to atomic energy.

"This goes on to show that India as a nation is adaptable and agile," he said. After the brutal second wave in April and May, the Covid case has fallen more than 80 per cent since its peak 5 weeks ago. This as also the pick up in the pace of vaccination had aided state governments to relax restrictions at a relatively faster pace than in 2020.

"I believe where convention fails, innovation can help. This has been seen during the Covid-19 global pandemic, tually," he said.

which is the biggest disruption of our age. All nations have suffered losses and faced anxiety about the future," Modi said.

While many conventional methods were put to test, innovation that came to the rescue. "Digital technology helped us cope, connect, comfort, console," he said and went on to site the seamless distribution of free ration to 80 crore people and cooking gas to the poor using the biometric digital identity Aadhaar system.

Innovation also helped overcome inadequate testing capacity and shortage of face masks, PPE kits, ventilators and other such equipment.

"Our doctors adopted telemedicine, in a big way so that some Covid and other non-Covid issues could be addressed vir-

Twitter...

According to the rules, significant social media intermediaries, or those with more than 5 million users, have to notify details of their Indian-based CCO, nodal contact person and grievance officer.

"Non-compliance with the new IT Rules would make Twitter liable to lose its safe harbour status. There is no registration or certification provided by the government, which says safe harbour is lost. Safe harbour is a legal defence platform. It can be used in a court of law if a case is brought against it by a third party. Now, on the one hand, the State has a right to initiate legal action against the intermediary if it feels the platform has lost the safe harbour status, but it is incumbent upon the court to adjudicate whether the intermediary will be liable or not, keeping in mind the safe harbour jurisprudence," said Kazim tives" before products are pur-Rizvi, founder of policy think tank, The Dialogue.

Digital rights orga Internet Freedom Foundation (IFF) also said the intermediary status, as mentioned in the IT Act, is a "technical qualification" and not a registration granted by the government.

"According to Section 79, intermediaries are immune from liability/penalty if they comply with legal take-down requests of user posts from courts and public authorities," tweeted IFF.

Essentially, social media firms do not create content on the platform, users do.

According to technology lawyer Mishi Choudhary, "The world over, the predominant consensus has been that it would be inequitable to hold them (platforms) strictly accountable for unlawful user-generated content."

Twitter had, the ministry had said earlier, shared details of a lawyer working in a law firm in India as its nodal contact person and grievance officer. The rules require that these designated officers of significant social media companies must be employees of the

Tuesday,

Ghaziabad (Uttar Pradesh, or UP) Police registered a first information report against Twitter for failing to take down a viral video that could incite communal hatred.

What happened in UP was illustrative of Twitter's arbitrariness in fighting fake news. While Twitter has been over-enthusiastic about its fact-checking mechanism, its failure to act in multiple cases like UP is perplexing and indicates its inconsistency in fighting misinformation," said Prasad in his tweets. He further said the company had failed to address the grievances of users by refusing to set up a process as mandated by the law of the land.

An amendment to the IBC under section 10A in the light of the pandemic had given protection to companies from defaults for up to one year, starting March 25, 2020.

The government expects the IBC activity to pick up once the economy comes back on track. "People do not want to gamble right now," Sahoo the platform experienced a 40 per cent growth in travel bookings in the past one week for hill stations and nearby tourist spots. "Majority of the bookings are still happening at the last minute instead of advance bookings that happened earlier," said Pitti. Going by the current trend, the company expects the market to grow multi-folds by next month as restrictions ease further.

"We are also seeing enquiries for weddings and corporate bookings in destinations like Alibaug and Ahmedabad." However, changing government norms have made guests cautious while confirming bookings. These are still early trends and a more definitive picture will emerge over the next few weeks,
